Dear Valued Customer,

We are delighted to announce that Nuplex Industries and Allnex have now been brought together to form the leading industrial coating resins company globally, present on four continents and serving customers in over 100 countries. We will be known as Allnex.

We are looking forward to continuing to earn your business by delivering high-quality products and the personalized, solution-focused customer service you have come to expect from us.

Please be assured that we are committed to ensuring that there is no disruption to the supply of products and services to you as we progress through the business combination. Whilst we appreciate this will take some time and result in some internal changes, we are confident that as a stronger combined business we will be better able to support you in the delivery of your goals.

With our expanded product range and our broader geographical footprint, Allnex will be able to offer you the local expertise you know you can rely on in more locations across the world.

Through our comprehensive, state-of-the-art technology portfolio our ability to provide you with the right chemistry for your products will be greater than before. Our ability to innovate has been strengthened, and we are looking forward to working with you to develop the solutions to your challenges.

In celebration of the combination of Nuplex and Allnex, we now have a new logo, as a symbolic representation of our combined strengths.

In the near term, please continue to address any questions and day-to-day business transactions to your current sales manager and customer service representative.

Thank you for your ongoing support. We are looking forward to the continuation of our mutually beneficial business relationship.

Best regards,
